Major W. H. H. Tysen, of the 13th Regiment, was ordered by Justice Cullen about a week ago to pay certain costs in proceedings taken against him by J.J. Leary, or in default to go to jail for twenty days for contempt. A motion has just been made for a stay or proceedings in order that the matter may be carried to the General Ferm of the Supreme Court. The trouble grew out of a regimental court martial.

Louis Melini, the man who gave straw bail for Horan, who shot Detectives Looney and Corr, was before Police Justice Walsh yesterday, charged with clubbing James Grubben, of No. 25 Park-ave., his tenant, who was unable to pay his last month's rent. After ordering him to leave his house, Menni got the club and beat Grubben unmercituily. Melini told Justice Walsh that he would do the same thing again under similar circumstances. The Justice sent him to the Penntentary for six months. martial.

JERSEY CITY.

Some property shipped by Mrs. Catharine Smith, of Woodbridge, N. J., from that place, was seized by Detective Francis, in the Pennsylvania Raifward Depot yesterday, on a warrant issued by Justice Davis. It was found to consist principally of the proceeds of several burglaries recently committed in Raihway, Elizabeth, New Brunswick and adjacent cities. On Monday night last two burglars, who gave their names as Eugene-Smith and John Williams, were arrested in Raihway, and the woman's address in Woodbridge was found in Smith's possession. When the officers went there they found that Mrs. Smith had shipped all her household goods to New-York. Among the recovered property was a let of silk umbrellas and dry goods. When Mrs. Smith went to the freight depot to inquire about the property, she was arrested and turned over to the Rainway authorities.

THE VALUE OF MEMORY.

Board of Trade Man's Experience Related in the Chicago Tribune.

Mesara, Editors. When the subscriber was a young man the clace where Chicago now stands was almost emphatically, as the Western orator once said, " a howling wilderiess." I can remember well how rapidly it has grown. I have seen it as a village, as a city and as a metropolitan centre. One notes many things in a life of three

I have seen it as a village, as a city and as a metropolitan centre. One notes many things in a life of three score and fifteen, but nothing more impresses him than the growth of cities on this continent. I have been identified with this great city. I have here lived and done business for many years, and as one of the closet inhabitionits, and possibly one of the best known. I hope to claim more attention for what I am now about to relate. Fifty years ago when a young man I fet that I was destined to long life, and I hoped usefulness. I had not inherited a very cigorous constitution from my ancestors, but I expected to grow stronger as I grew older. My health was, however, less and less promising as the years came on. My stomach at first gave me a great deal of trouble, but I paid little attention to it, thinking it unuanly to be sick. Nevertheless, I was often prostrated with severe illness, I had frequent sick headaches, my body seemed full of strange rheumanic disorders. Of course, I consulted physician after physician, not letting my friends know of it, because I was too prond to adult I was getting old and feeble, but they never seemed to do me any permanent good. They encouraged me to take frequent vacations, to lighten my work as suich as possible, to regulate my diet and not allow my mind to be too much eng. ossed with my business. This advice did not please me. I saw no good reason why I could not transact business like any other man, and I did not propose to be bluffled out of commercial life in this fashion.

I was a very foolish man, as I cun now very readily see. I ought to have husbanded my strength, and nursed my waning energies. But I had no confidence in what my dectors told me, for it did not seem to me that they understood my case. When they were treating me for stomach derangements I noteed that among the symptoms I had were an irritated, hot dry kin an alternately navendas and feetole appetite. In the morning my mouth was conted and tasted boat; I was nanble to do any physical work without ore and fifteen, but nothing more impresses him than
